The ships' naturalist guide will assist us in exploring, learning, snorkeling, and enjoying our wonderful vacation in this island paradise; it's one of the most unique areas in the world! However, it doesn't end there- you will also get to experience Quito, Ecuador, cross the equator, and take a day trip to the famous Otavalo country and market. All this and other singles to enjoy it with!

A little about your vacation—

The Galapagos Islands, made up of 13 large islands, six smaller islands and over 40 islets, are located in the Pacific Ocean 600 miles west of the Ecuadorian mainland. Its wonders span from the most varied geological formations of lava flows, blowholes, spatter cones and lava tunnels to beaches of olive, white, or black sand, and the most diverse landscapes and species of animal and plant life.

On some islands you will find red mangroves, scalesia trees and acacias, while on others you will see cactus, micronias and Palo Santo trees. The most surprising sights for visitors, however, are the animals, which astounded Charles Darwin on his visit in 1835 and he used what he saw to construct his theory of evolution. Some of these animals cannot be found anywhere else on earth! The giant land turtles gave the archipelago its name and are just some of the species unique to the islands, as are the Galapagos penguins, Darwin finch, hawk and marine iguana. You will also see Blue-footed Boobies, Swallow-tailed Gulls, bright Yellow Warblers, fur seals, sea lions, frigate birds and free-roaming albatross.

Our group will explore the islands on our chartered yacht just for our group, see many different animals and vegetation, visit The Charles Darwin Research Institute, have a Galapagos BBQ, have a chance to snorkel the beautiful waters surrounding these Islands and so much more.....!

Prior to our Galapagos yacht cruise adventure we'll spend time in Quito which is a wonderful mix of the old and new world, enabling you to experience the friendly culture of Ecuador. We can tread the narrow cobblestone streets of colonial Quito on our city tour, we'll have free time to explore even more of what Quito and its surrounding countryside has to offer which includes a trip to the equator! Also, included is a full day to the world famous Otavalo Indian Market, where we'll have time to wander through this sprawling, colorful marketplace-the largest in South America!

Come join us on this trip of a lifetime on our very own private yacht!

Over 1,900 species of plants and animals in the Galapagos
(Darwin's "Enchanted Islands")
cannot be found anywhere else on earth!

Galapagos Islands Private Yacht Cruise & Quito, Ecuador Adventure Land and Cruise Itinerary

Day 1 Wed. June 4 Depart your hometown to Quito, Ecuador

Fly in to Quito, Ecuador from your home city to start your adventure! You'll be met outside of customs and immigration by our local guide and transferred to our hotel where we'll be staying for the next 3 nights at the Dann Carlton Hotel. Depending on the time you get in, there will be a casual welcome get together to meet your fellow travelers and your Singles Travel Company representative and then dinner will be at leisure with others from the group. Start exploring!

Day 2 Thurs. June 5 Touring Quito and the "Middle of the World"

After breakfast, our exploration begins with a private guided tour of colonial Quito, the "Middle of the World" and the Equatorial Monument. During the tour of Quito, see cobble-stoned streets, busy plazas, elegant cathedrals, Quito's oldest monastery, the Legislative Palace and enjoy the view of the surrounding mountains. Next we take a short drive north of the city to the "must see" site of the "Middle of the World" monument and visitor complex, where visitors can step between the world's hemispheres in the blink of an eye. You'll have fun taking pictures as you cross from one hemisphere to another at the equator.

Return to your hotel in the afternoon. The rest of the day we can continue exploring this wonderful city. Bustling Avenida Amazonas, the showpiece street of modern Quito, is a good place to stop in a sidewalk cafe and watch life go by. If we didn't see the following places earlier on the tour we will have some time to visit them, such as the House of Culture, the University, the Legislative Palace, and Alameda Park. Also, if time, see the highlights of charming colonial Quito, including Independence Square, La Ronda, and La Compania.

This evening we will enjoy a 'welcome dinner' in a local restaurant in Quito. Then the evening is at leisure to enjoy the local night scene with new friends from the group. (B, D)

Quito, the capital of Ecuador is arguably the most beautiful city in South America. Located 2850m (9350ft) above sea level and just 22km (14mi) south of the equator, it boasts a wonderful spring-like climate in a spectacular setting. Vistas in Quito are dominated by mountains, with several snowcapped volcanoes standing sentinel in the distance; the city itself sits at the foot of 4700m (15,400ft). Architecturally, Quito has plenty of colonial treasures, and modern building has been strictly controlled in the old town since 1978, when it was declared a world cultural heritage site by UNESCO. The old center is full of whitewashed houses, red tiled roofs and colonial churches, with no flashing neon to disrupt the ambience of the past. The northern part of the city is the new town, containing modern offices, embassies, shopping centers and airline offices.

Day 3 Friday June 6 Quito/ Otavalo Indian Market

Your highlight today is an excursion to the Indian Market. The Indian fairs and markets of Ecuador are a perfect illustration of this relatively small Andean country's vast cultural wealth, stunning geography and its happy and colorful people. Markets are traditional places for people to come and meet, shop, haggle and gossip, while local native tribes trade foodstuffs, animals, utensils, pans, textiles and all kinds of other items. For the foreign visitor, the Indigenous markets provide a great way to get closer to the Ecuadorians, while bargaining over the price of a sweater or panpipe and enjoy the fruit of their industrious hands in their multifarious crafts.

The Indian Market of Otavalo is the most famous and colorful in all of South America. Your guide will meet you in your hotel lobby for a morning departure towards the scenic roads northeast of Quito. The drive takes under two hours and passes by the dramatic Avenue of the Volcanoes. Enroute, you will also visit the Imbabura Province, known as the Lake District of Ecuador. Also see the Plaza de los Ponchos, where beautiful textiles of cotton and wool made in local workshops fill the square and surrounding streets with color and life.

We arrive in Otavalo, often called the Persia of South America, to find the market bustling. Otavalenos sell their goods throughout Ecuador, but you will find the best selection and prices here. Otavalo Indians are an aristocratic society and highly skilled weavers. The market stalls sell every kind of craft, from wood carvings and naif paintings to Panama hats and jewelry, to woolen rugs, wall hangings, and knit and embroidered clothing, to name but a few items. You will have time to visit the Friday Otavalo Indian market, filled with Otavalo Indians wearing blue ponchos, white trousers and long braided hair. Lunch is included and will be served at a real colonial hacienda. In the afternoon, bid farewell to Otavalo and begin your journey back to Quito and to your hotel. (B, L)

Day 4 Sat. June 7

Fly from Quito to Baltra & Transfer to Hotel on Santa Cruz Island

This morning, our local personal English-speaking guide will meet us in the hotel lobby for the transfer to the Quito airport for our flight to the islands to begin our Galapagos adventure! Upon arrival in Baltra, we'll be transferred to the local hotel in Puerto Ayora on Santa Cruz Island for a one night hotel stay for an up-close view of one of the islands. Santa Cruz Island is known for its' gigantic tortoises, flora and beautiful landscapes and it is one of the populated Islands in the Archipelago.

You'll enjoy the town of Puerto Ayora, located in the center of the Galapagos Islands archipelago and the largest settlement in the Galapagos Islands-you can buy souvenirs, mail postcards, and absorb local charm in the social heart of the islands. The hub of most activity in the Galapagos, Puerto Ayora is a charming port town where sea, sun, seabirds and sailboats coexist in happy equilibrium.

After check-in, we'll be transferred to the main dock in Puerto Ayora to meet our excursion boat. The captain will take us out of the bay towards the lighthouse at Punta Estrada to view swooping blue-footed boobies, frigate birds, herons and frolicking sea lions.

We'll continue into Shark Bay to be able to spot rays and sea turtles and observe white-tipped reef sharks. At the entrance to Academy Bay, off a small islet, you will have the opportunity to join a colony of playful sea lions in the water and perfect your 'sea lion rolls'! Snorkel equipment, life vests and chilled drinks are provided on boat.

Tonight enjoy a special Galapagos BBQ party to welcome us to the Galapagos Islands! (B,D)

Day 5 Sun. June 8

Transfer to the Motor Yacht Coral II- Highlands on Santa Cruz Island

Early this morning after breakfast and before we board our yacht, we visit the The Charles Darwin Research Institute. This is a scientific and educational foundation honoring and extending the scientific revolution brought on by one of the greatest figures in the history of human thought-Charles Darwin. It is dedicated to furthering the Darwinian perspective in the behavioral sciences and it supports research in traditional fields also.

After our visit we are transferred to our private, chartered, Motor Yacht Coral II, to begin our 3 night chartered yacht cruise through Darwin's "Enchanted Islands". Accommodations throughout our yacht feature private bathrooms and air-conditioning. All meals, lectures, shore excursions and cultural programs led by category "3" naturalist guides are included! Our chartered yacht has all the commodities of a nice cruise ship, yet it is a lot smaller to provide a more intimate experience with nature. Once on board and settled in your cabin, start exploring the ship and enjoying your cruise!

This afternoon we visit the Highlands on Santa Cruz Island. You'll see the islands' most famous reptile: the giant tortoises in their wild habitat. Also here is where amazing encounters with woodpecker finches (Darwin's finches) have occurred and the vermilion flycatcher shows its scarlet feathers against an emerald green forest. Moist conditions keep this epiphyte-laden environment with a fresh green look. There is also a bizarre Scalesia forest (related to sunflowers) and the wild tortoise sanctuary. On a clear day you are assured spectacular views of the sea and neighboring islands. (B, L, D)

Day 6 Mon. June 9

Galapagos Adventure Cruising-Suarez Point-Gardner Bay, Espanola Island

After breakfast we continue our adventure with an AM visit to the Suarez Point, Espanola Island.

Espanola Island (also known as Hood Island) is a relative flat Island, only small hills are evident. Even though it is at the southern most point of the archipelago (and the most isolated), it is one of the most popular islands to visit because of the wide variety of animals found on the island and nowhere else in the archipelago. The main characteristic of the Island is the waved albatross, it is the only colony in the Galapagos. The main points of visit are Suarez Point and Gardner Bay.

The best visitor site on the island is Suarez Point. The animals on this Island are larger than any other Island. You'll learn about the lava terrain and along the lava trail Blue-footed boobies lay their eggs (this is the largest colony of Blue-footed Boobies in the Islands) and iguanas sunbathe on the rocks. This is also one of the best sites for bird watching and to see the most impressive colonies of sea birds in all of the Galapagos Islands.

You'll see the hooded mockingbird, red-billed tropicbird, Galapagos doves, hawks and swallow-tailed gulls. You'll also see the world's largest colony of waved albatross (about 15,000), their mating rituals are a highlight. This bird is the largest bird on the Islands.

The Island also has large colonies of marine iguanas, lava lizards and the colorful Sally light foot crabs. You may also visit the famous blowhole, where water shoots into the air at almost seventy-five feet from the waves crashing into the island.

This afternoon we visit Gardner Bay, Espanola Island on the eastern side of the Island. With its white sandy beaches it is great for swimming and snorkeling. If you snorkel you may see turtles and sharks amongst the beautiful fish in the area. This site has no trails, but is considered an open area where you can spot Galapagos hawks, American oystercatchers, and Galapagos doves, three species of finches, yellow warblers, lava lizards and marine iguanas.

Tonight, relax after dinner on the deck, enjoy the stars, and trade stories with your fellow passengers. (B, L, D)

Day 7 Tues. June 10

Galapagos Adventure Cruising-Cormorant Point and Post Office Bay, Floreana Island

After breakfast on board our ship we head out again for another fascinating day of adventure in the Galapagos Islands.

Floreana Island has 80 residents (one of the three populated islands in the Galapagos) and some of the more interesting natural attractions in the Islands. The main characteristic of the Island is the flamingos' lagoon, and its history. It has a colorful history, having been a stopping place for pirates, whalers and settlers. The main points to visit: Cormorant Point, Post Office Bay and the Devil's Crown.

In the AM we'll visit Cormorant Point on Floreana Island. Cormorant Point has us landing on a green colored sand beach. The green color is due to the accumulation of olivine crystal material.

We'll hike a well-marked trail beginning in the black mangrove beds heading toward the back of the lagoon. This lagoon holds one of the biggest populations of flamingos in the Galápagos. This island is also known for its endemic plant life, such as the Galápagos millwork, passionflower, and button mangrove. Sea turtles also have a nesting site here. Snorkelers can snorkel on the main beach where the sea lions are playful, or more experienced snorkelers can roam the waters around Devils Crown.

In the PM we'll visit Post Office Bay on Floreana Island. In 1793 a "post office" was established by an English whaler—they used a wooden barrel to put their mail in and sailors passing would take it to North America or Europe. In the 1930's a German family settled near Post Office Bay and they still live on the island. The barrel is still in use, and you can drop your letters and postcards in to be sent anywhere in the world. Behind the post office are lava tubes which you can enter by ladders.

Tonight, we enjoy dinner on our yacht and relax with the group. (B, L, D)

Day 8 Wed. June 11

Galapagos Cruising—North Seymour Island-Fly Baltra to Quito

After breakfast we visit North Seymour Island to see land iguanas; the largest colony of the Magnificent Frigate birds; a nesting colony for the Blue footed-boobies; swallow tailed gulls and the coastline which has plenty of sea lions.

The Magnificent Frigatebird, known for the large red pouch on its' neck, is a large black bird with a long wingspan, and a hooked beak. It is extremely fast and has excellent vision. During mating season the males throw back their heads, inflate the pouch (sometimes to the size of a soccer ball), and shake trying to capture the attention of female Frigates.

Boobies and Frigates share the same nesting area on North Seymour, which makes for an interesting relationship. The Blue- Footed Boobies nest on the ground making their nests from the twigs of the Palo Santos Trees, while the Magnificent Frigate bird nests just above them in the saltbushes.

Afterward, we'll transfer to the Baltra airport for our return flight to mainland Ecuador. We return to our hotel, Dann Carlton Hotel, in the late afternoon for one last night together in Quito. Enjoy last minute shopping and exploring and maybe a farewell dinner tonight to celebrate the end to a fabulous vacation with the group! (B, D)

Day 9 Thurs. June 12

Quito/ US return

This morning we transfer early to the airport for our flight home! The end of a wonderful adventure and new friends to share the memories with after the trip! (B)

Galapagos Facts—Blessed by their isolation from the mainland and their equatorial location, the Galapagos Islands are beautiful all year through, making it so there is no single time of year that is better than another for visiting. Cruises operate on a year round basis. Temperatures (max high for June is 78/ low is 68, average sea temp is 74 degrees) are determined almost entirely by the ocean currents that are influenced by the trade winds. Most birds nest year round, so you can see courtship, mating, chicks hatching and rearing almost any time of the year.

Park Rules When you visit the Galapagos National Park, stick to the following park rules to help preserve the unique flora and fauna on the Islands. Do not remove any plant, animal, or remains of such (including shells, bones, and pieces of wood), or other natural objects.

- Be careful not to bring any live material or food to the Islands, or from one island to another.
- Make sure you do not touch, handle, feed, or chase the animals.
- Do stay within the permitted areas & only visit the Islands together with a licensed National Park Guide.
- Do not leave any garbage or litter on the Islands, or throw any off your boat.
- Do not deface the rocks.
- Make sure you do not buy souvenirs or objects made of plants or animals from the Islands.

There is a weight restriction of 1 suitcase, 44 lbs., plus a carry-on for flights to the Galapagos, bring only what you need to the Islands.
