Day 3, Mon. Apr 12

Lima to Cuzco to the Sacred Valley

Today we fly to Cuzco and are met at the airport for a full-day tour into the scenic Urubamba Valley, also known as the Sacred Valley of the Incas. You will drive out of the Cuzco Valley onto the Chincheros Plains, and then descend into the Sacred Valley of the Incas. The first stop will be at two little known sites: Maras, where the Incas gathered salt from steep terraces, and Moray, where they conducted agricultural experiments in unusual land formations.

Enjoy lunch at a charming country inn and continue on to visit the ruins of Ollantaitambo, the historically important stone city where Manco Inca led the last defense against the Spaniards. The town was named after the legendary rebel Inca General Ollantay. Both the design and foundations of most of the buildings date back to the original constructions (Llaqta) of the Inca Empire. The streets still have their Inca names from the time when the town was a strategic military, religious and agricultural center. The town's most salient characteristics are its cobbled streets and a church dedicated to the Apostle Santiago, built in 1620. (B,L)

Our hotel: Sonesta Posada del Inca -2 nights

Posada del Inca Yucaj is housed in a beautiful 200-year old, colonial-style mansion located in the Inca village of Yucaj in the Sacred Valley. This one-of-a-kind country inn was originally a hot-springs spa in Inca times, and later was a convent in colonial times. The antique building has been enlarged, and the addition blends seamlessly with the old. There are a total of 65 cozy rooms with central heating and private bathrooms. There are also two restaurants, a bar, laundry service, gift shop, chapel, and extensive gardens.

Day 4, Tues. Apr 13

Pisac Market Tour

After breakfast, we depart this morning for an excursion to the northern end of the scenic Urubamba Valley to visit the market at Pisac, where you can shop among hundreds of colorfully dressed Indians, who meet there to trade and socialize and you'll have the opportunity to bargain with the natives for many different types of Peruvian handicrafts and jewelry. (B)

Day 5, Wed. Apr 14

Urubamba to Machu Picchu

Today you have a full day train excursion to the spectacular ruins of Machu Picchu. We'll transfer to the station in Ollantaitambo for the train departure and in less than two hours we'll arrive at the foot of Machu Picchu. Mini-buses take us up a serpentine road to the dizzying heights of the ruins where we begin our walking tour of this fascinating Lost City of the Incas with a private, expert English-speaking guide.

Vacations for Singles of all Ages

Perched 8,200 feet above the valley, Machu Picchu was hidden by mountains and semi-tropical jungles for 400 years until discovered by Hiram Bingham of Yale University in 1911. Archaeologists believe that the Inca "Virgins of the Sun" took refuge from the Spanish Conquistadors here. Lunch is on your own and you have the afternoon for further explorations of the ruins on your own, or you can continue with your guide.

The gates to the ruins close in the early afternoon and the last bus back down the mountain departs shortly after that. When you get into the village of Aguas Calientes your guide will walk you to the hotel, where your luggage will already be waiting for you. (B)

Our Hotel: Presidente Hotel- 1 night

The three-star Hostal Presidente is located in the heart of Aguas Calientes, tucked between the mountain and the beautiful Vilcanota River. It is close to the train station and the Machu Picchu bus depot, with only a short one-mile ride to the Machu Picchu Sanctuary. The hotel is a two-story, low-rise building painted in yellow and terracotta with tiled roofing. The decor of the rooms is very basic with terracotta flooring in some and carpeting in others. All have modern furnishings. Room amenities include: Air-conditioning, satellite television and refrigerator. Hotel amenities feature: Bar-restaurant (open for breakfast, lunch and dinner), continental breakfast included, fax services, laundry service, luggage porters, and luggage rooms.

The staff is very helpful and friendly.

Day 6, Thurs. Apr 15

Machu Picchu to Cuzco

We'll enjoy another full day at Machu Picchu for exploration on your own. You can either visit the ruins again (at an extra charge) or just spend the day exploring your surrounding area. Sunrise from Machu Picchu is an amazing and spectacular event; you can make arrangements about getting back up to Machu Picchu. Also note there are less crowds at the ruins if you are there before the train of people come in from Cuzco.

Later we take an afternoon Vistadome train back to Ollantaitambo, where we'll be met and transferred to Cuzco.

NOTE: The round trip bus transfers to Machu Picchu and the admissions are not included this day. Dinner is at leisure. (B)

Our Hotel: Hotel Samay- 2 nights

Located in the heart of Cuzco, just one block from the Plaza de Armas, the Hotel Samay is an old house that was once part of Inca Garcilaso de la Vega's (the first writer from Cuzco) residence and nowadays is the Museum of Cuzco. The hotel has 70 heated, carpeted rooms with private bathrooms, cable TV, and access to the internet for a fee. The staff is pleasant and accommodating, and the bar and restaurant are popular places for people in Cuzco to gather.

Day 7, Fri. Apr 16

Cuzco

Enjoy a leisurely morning before your tour of Colonial Cuzco including the Temple of the Sun, Cathedral, Plaza de Armas, and other landmarks. Continue on to the ruins outside of Cuzco. We'll ascend into the hills surrounding the city to visit the Incan ruins of Kenko, Pucapucara, Tambo Machay, and the great stone fortress of Sacsayhuaman.

The afternoon is free for exploring or shopping and our farewell dinner is tonight! (B,D)

Optional 2 Night Extension to the Amazon Jungle

Our Jungle accommodations—POSADA AMAZONAS

Day 8, Sat. Apr 17

Cuzco to Puerto Maldonado

Instead of heading to Lima and home you'll transfer to the Cuzco Airport for the short 55-minute flight to Puerto Maldonado. You'll be met by a guide and then be driven ten minutes to the Puerto Maldonado headquarters. While enjoying your first taste of the forest in tropical gardens you will be asked to pack only the necessary gear for the next few days, and leave the rest at the safe deposit- this helps us keep the boats and cargo light.

Skirting Puerto Maldonado, you'll drive 20 kilometers to the Tambopata River Port, entering the Native Community of Infierno. The port is a communal business. Then a forty-five minute boat ride takes you from the Tambopata Port to Posada Amazonas and into the Community's Primary Forest Private Reserve. All the boats are 20-foot long, roofed canoes with 55 hp outboard motors. On arrival, the lodge manager will welcome you and brief you with important navigation and security tips.

After getting settled and exploring our lodge, take a 20 minute walk from our lodge to the 30-meter scaffolding canopy tower. A banistered staircase running through the middle provides safe access to the platforms above. At the top expect spectacular views of the vast expanses of forest cut by the Tambopata River winding through the middle. Now and then toucans, parrots or macaws are seen flying against the horizon, or flocks of mixed species will land in the treetop next to you.

After our included dinner tonight an ecotourism lecture on the Infierno ecotourism project is held by a staff member.

(B, Boxed L, D)

Overnight in Posada Amazonas.

Day 9, Sun. Apr 18

Jungle Stay

On early rising you'll hear some great jungle sounds.... After breakfast we head to Tres Chimbadas and Oxbow Lake which is thirty minutes by boat and forty five minutes hiking from Posada Amazonas. Once there you'll paddle around the lake in a catamaran, searching for the resident family of nine giant river otters and other lakeside wildlife such as caiman, hoatzin and horned screamers.

Today also visit the Parrot clay lick- this clay lick is a twenty-minute walk from Posada Amazonas. From a blind located about twenty meters away you will see dozens of parrots and parakeets descend on most clear mornings to ingest the clay on a riverbank. Species such as Mealy and Yellow-headed Amazon, Blue-headed Parrot and Dusky headed Parakeet descend at this clay lick. The clay lick is most active at dawn and during the late mornings and mid-afternoons.

After lunch we take an Ethnobotanical Tour- a twenty-minute boat ride downriver leading you to a trail designed by the staff of the Centro Ñape. The Centro Ñape is a communal organization that produces medicines out of forest plants and administers them to patients who choose their little clinic. Discover the medicinal (and other) uses of selected plants.

After dinner we take a night walk which gives you the option of hiking out at night, when most of the mammals are active but rarely seen. Much easier to find are frogs with shapes and sounds as bizarre as their natural histories. (B, L, D)

Overnight in Posada Amazonas

Day 10, Mon. Apr 19

Posada Amazonas to Puerto Maldonado Airport to Lima

You may also want to consult the Center for Disease Control's website, which has extensive and easy-to-use information on Travelers' Health for specific destinations: www.cdc.gov/travel. A list of travel clinics is also provided by the International Society of Travel Medicine at their website: www.istm.org.

In the Andes altitude sickness (or Soroche as it is known in Peru) can be a common problem. Please consult with your MD as high altitude sickness can affect anyone; there are medicines that can help with the high altitude, so please follow the advice of your physician. Acclimating yourself to the altitude is advised- take it easy on the first day you arrive in a high altitude area; meals should be light, avoid alcohol and all strenuous exercise. Another way to combat altitude sickness is by drinking mate de coca, a Peruvian tea made from the coca plant. In the Andes – mate de coca is available everywhere.
